The Ultimate Loyalty is Love

Loving means acting like the Good Samaritan. We know that Jesus, himself did not hesitate to humble himself to the point of becoming a man and giving His life for us.

To show compassion is to suffer with the wounded and the suffering, to share their pain and agony.

At times we can be silent spectators afraid to involve ourselves and dirty our hands. Compassion demands that we get out of ourselves as we reach out to others in need. It means that we get our hands and even our reputations dirty.

The Good Samaritan shows us what compassion and commitment are all about. He could have closed his heart and refused to respond to a genuine need. But he stopped and knelt down beside the stranger who was hurting.

This kind of Love teaches us what authentic compassion, commitment and communion with others are all about.
