Not a Time for Complacency

We never know our strengths until we are faced with adversity. Most people know that in their own personal lives. Families know it and it can be experienced in communities.

The Bishop of Limerick highlighted this on T.V. during the week in response to the way Limerick people galvanised themselves in response to the drug and crime situation.

The Gospel today reminds us about the same thing - it says - the Kingdom of Heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field. While everyone was asleep his enemy came, sowed darnel (bad weeds) among the wheat, and made off.

That story Jesus warns people to stay awake, meaning - as a community not to tolerate anything that can seriously destroy life or cause people to be afraid.

We are fortunate to have a caring community. But its an old saying and a true one:

All that is needed for Evil to triumph is that good people do nothing.

It is important to be aware that if standards are lowered - at a personal, family, community level; if we ignore values - spiritual or moral; if we stop believing in our God and decide to .... go with the flow,

then we could become vulnerable to bad influences.

It's not a time for complacency.
