Jim Curran

Jim Curran finished as Principal of Kilmurry National School on Friday last. We had a special school Mass to pray for God's Blessing on the Staff, Students and Parents, but in a special way to thank God for Jim's contribution to the school. He came to Kilmurry National School in September 2009. He has made a huge contribution to the development of the school, building on the achievements of the previous principals Joe Brady and Peter Walsh. Each classroom is fully equipped using modern technology as a teaching aid. Jim has displayed wonderful leadership skills at all times. While in Kilmurry there have been many achievements including participation in the Young Scientist Exhibition, Excellence in Maths and Science awards and the school has continued to attain Green School Flags. The school has won the Cumann na mBunscol Schools Primary Hurling competition for three years in a row. Jim is now moving to Knockanean National School and we wish him the best of health and happiness in the future.

CONGRATS! SEADNA

We were delighted to hear that Séadna Morey, one of our own, has been chosen as the Bord Gais U21 Break-through Hurler of the Year 2012. We want to congratulate him and to let him know how proud of him we are. My immediate reaction to the news was - no better man to receive this award; it will definitely not go to his head.

Séadna is a quiet, humble young man with serious qualities and values. A few years ago, with Kevin Lynch, he gave a talk to the Confirmation Class on the values and disciplines needed in sport and in life.

What they said stayed in the memory with many. Séadna is regarded, within and outside the Parish as an outstanding hurler. He came to the notice of many, nationally, a few years ago when he gave a man-of-the-match display in the Minor All Ireland final in Corke Park. This year he performed brilliantly for club and county and in a very special way in the great win over Kilkenny in the Under 21 final. Séadna prepares well, performs well and does it all quietly. His family can be very proud of him and we in the parish are too, as indeed we are of all our young people.
